COLONEL PERRY, the veteran editor of the ester Sun Sentinel, pretends to see the ting on the wall and and counsels against the renomination of President TAFT. Tatt Gives Them He avers that with the people in their present Fairbanks Medicine. temper the President cannot be re-elected.

We agree with our venerable contemporary that such would have been the case a year ago when a Democratic House was swept in on a landslide, which, in a small measure, was a repudiation of the TAFT administration, but more so a revolt against the encroachment of the money powers in the Senate. We differ, however, with the colonel regarding the foolishness of TAFT's renomination. He is the only logical man the Republicans can into upon. He has made the best Chief cutive we have had in years, considering he circumstances with which he has had to deal. No man has ever inonestly tried to be more worthy of his trust. In our opinion it a be snicide for the Republicans to refuse renomination.

Four years ago we espoused the cause of of Mr. Fairranks. Colonel Prrry, we believe, very ably assisted the Federal office holders to secure Kentucky's instructions for TAFT, who was the then "steam-roller" candidate of ROOSEVELT. The unpopularity of President TART in the first few years of his administration was caused chiefly by the sudden change from a "broncho-busting" radical, whose spectacular performances had completely captured the administration of the galleries, among 1, candor compels us to admit, we sat orshipped, to a safe and sane conserative who at first the mass of people could not appreciate. We admire Colonel ROOSEVELT, whom the editor of the Sun-Sentinel proposes as the successor of Mr. TAFT, and do not agree with many who claim that his career of usefulness has ended. Mr. ROOSEVELT will be a factor in American affairs for many years to come, but not as a dictator. The fact that Colon- Rooseverr dictated the nomination of TAFT before, seems to lead Colonel PERRY to believe that his power in that direction has not waned. But it has.

Colonel PERRY had just as well settle himself to accept the inevitable and take the same dose he helped administer to the FAIRBANKS men four years ago. As a consolation tonic respectfully refer him to Colonel John A. Joyce's poem, "It'll All Come Home To You."-Mt. Sterling Gazette.

BREAKS AN AVIATION RECORD

All American records for the earrying of passengers in a heavier than air machine were smashed the other day, when George W. Bentty, operating a biplane, earried three persons with him in the air above the Nassau Boulevard Aviation field, New York, and flew over Belmont Park, Garden City and Mineola for fiftten minutes. The wind beat against the sides of the fragile machine, rocking it dangerously, and the cold was intense, but Beatty did not come to earth until he was confident he had done more in one branch of aviation than has any other man in this country. A smooth, graceful descent to earth marked the finish of the trip.

It was said by several men who saw the flight that Beatty flew with his three passengers more than sixteen miles. Leo Stevens, an aviator, placed the distance, however, at approximately ten miles, saying no man could fly with a burden of three passengers further than that in the time passed by Beatty in the air under the existing

After the flight Beatty, when speaking to a reporter, said he had marked the actual time passed in the air as twelve minutes and the distance covered as approximately eight miles. He could not be sure of the number of miles, he said, as all his attention had been attracted to guiding the machine. Even at ten miles Beatty's trip is considered remarkable. To appreciate more clearly the difficulties under which the trip was made it must be understood that the combined weight of the four passengers in the biplane was 544 pounds, and that the machine itself weighs 900 pounds.

Beatty's three passengers were: Dr. A. G. Belden of Terre Haute, Ind. and Herbert Pratt and John Findlay,

BADEN-POWELL IN AMERICA

Sir Robert Baden-Poweii, founder and chief scout of the British Boy Scouts, who arrived in New York a few days ago to visit the Boy Scouts of America, is one of the British heroes of the Boer war, having earned his fame by his brilliant defense of Mafeking. In fact the history of Baden-Pow-

But Daden-Powell's men, who for months had kept themselves alive on mulo soup as a staple diet and locusts as inxuries, after fourteen hours of fighting, out manoeuvred and totally defeated the Boers. When Mafeking was relieved five days later the people of this country joined with those of England in hailing Baden-Powell as a hero.

Ever since retiring from the army Baden-Poweii has given his time to organizing the boy scout movement, which in England has received official recognition. An army of boy scouts last July was reviewed by King George and Baden-Powell was publicly commended for his work,
